A blue ceramic coffee cup is shown overflowing with a rich, dark coffee topped with a thick layer of white milk foam. The cup is tilted, and a large, dynamic splash of coffee and milk is captured mid-air, cascading upwards and outwards. Several coffee beans are suspended in the air around the splash, some appearing to be in motion. The background is a deep, dark brown, which makes the bright colors of the coffee and the blue of the cup stand out. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the textures of the coffee, milk, and the rim of the cup.
